

My spirit of St Nicks this term is somebody who has shown a fantastic attitude towards work as well as school life in general this term. They come in with a positive attitude each morning. They are friendly and polite and they always have a smile on their face.

During lessons they are taking on challenge with a positive attitude, pushing themselves to complete trickier tasks and extending their learning.

They are a bubbly member of the class, who always has something to say. I have noticed how controlled they are being in lessons and how hard they are working to stay focussed and avoid distractions.

This year they have volunteered for various roles and although they haven't been chosen yet, they have not let their disappointment get the better of them and I hope they continue to put themselves forward as more opportunities come up later this year.

They are still enthusiastic to help and volunteer with anything they are asked to do. They love to volunteer to read and they do this with enthusiasm and great expression. This is a fantastic skill and I know they will make an excellent actor when we do our Shakespeare play later in the year.

They are happy to work and play with everyone without complaint and always getting on with what they've been asked to do.

I am so pleased to see their confidence growing and their fantastic attitude to school. Every day they show the school values, looking out for others and being kind and helpful. Their growing maturity and cheery disposition has been noticed around school by other adults and they should be really proud of this.

I know I can rely on this person for anything this year and I'm looking forward to watching this person continue to develop and challenge themselves throughout the rest of year 6.
